

Course Syllabus: Hawaiian History

Course Description:

This course is an overview of Hawaii's past and present history. Students will explore the historic, geographic, socio-political, economic, and the multi-cultural development of modern Hawaii as well as study the effects of change on the people of Hawai'i. Course content begins with a quick look at pre-contact Hawaiian civilization, the campaign of Kamehameha Nui, then through the change brought about by the first foreigners to the islands, continuing on through statehood and modern movements and issues.

Course Goals:

1. To gain an understanding of significant events in the History of modern Hawai'i, and their effects on the Hawaiian population as well as the general population of Hawai'i.
2. To use chronology to explain significant events and the short- and long-term effects of these events such as the abolition of the kapu, the overthrow, annexation, military occupation, statehood, etc.
3. To encourage students to become involved in current issues that affect the people of Hawai'i.
4. Improve such skills as reading, writing, discussing, researching, verbal skills, critical thinking, observation, synthesis, problem solving, creative thinking, and decision making in the context of the Hawaiian History.
5. Demonstrate and learn how to use and where to locate various source materials that deal with Hawaiian History.
6. To take what students learn in this course and give back to the Hawaiian community in the form of service projects or dissemination of knowledge acquired throughout this course.
7. Upon completion of this course students should be able to answer all of the "Essential Questions" found in the chart below.

 All standards are based on National Standards **
